More information about the categories, see the infopage of the challenge (www.birdlife.fi/100birds).

4. It's possible to participate in several categories during the same year. Click again the Participate-button and create another tick list. (Note that all the functionalities are not available in this case.)

5. Be careful not to accidentally tick a rare species.

Note: names of those who have reached 100 species and those who have spotted a rarity are shown on the results pages.
